STUDENT LIFE!

Dear GCHS Students,

After this year, we will only have our memories of our brief but memorable time here at GCHS. The wins and losses of the football team, the newly renovated gymnasium, and the everyday surprises of life are all captured here for us to look back and remember years from now. The new CD-ROM will help provide more visual memories and a lasting record of this momentous year. With life's long journey ahead, there will always be time to "Capture Your Dreams."

Sincerely,
Dan Prengel

FINE ARTS

Amanda Schmetke - Band

Elizabeth Moulton - Band

Kelli Comer - Band

What would the world be like without the fine arts? The Fine Arts Department of CCHS is something that people often look past, but it is made up of many outgoing and achieving students. This year the yearbook staff asked the teachers in the Fine Arts Department to choose seniors in each area that have gone the extra mile to achieve their personal bests. These four areas include band, art, foreign language, and vocal music.

In band, students join together to make awesome music under the direction of Mr. Roberts. They perform at school events and school concerts. The band even goes as far as Florida to compete. Together they make beautiful music with just air and brass instruments. "The three students we picked exemplify everything that a musician should be. We hope that the rest of the band will use them as a guiding light in all of their musical endeavor," said Mr. Roberts, about the three chosen seniors, Amanda Schmetke, Elizabeth Moulton, and Kelli Comer.

Foreign language is the part of the Fine Arts Department that brings students closer to different cultures. Foreign language gives students the chance to learn about the customs of the Spanish and German cultures. There is even a Foreign Language Club, headed by Mrs. Blakenship and Mrs. Larsen. When discussing the three top students, Sarah Scalurro, David Wykoff, and Jennifer Mull, Mrs. Larsen said, "These three students are the top in their scores and the best participants. They have a really good grasp on the language."

Art is another part of the Fine Arts Department. In art, students get out their supplies and create, whether they are drawing, painting, or sculpting. The four students chosen were Amy Dioneda, Kyle Price, Targi Graczyk, and Ehrich Smaddy. "All four of these individuals have a true passion to create, and that shows in their enthusiasm towards their art. It is this quality, along with their outstanding artistic ability, that sets them apart from all others. They have been a true joy to work with this year," said Mrs. Grippi.

Vocal music makes up the final part of the Fine Arts Department. Girls Glee, Advanced Mixed Chorus, Conanto, and Swing Choir are offered. Mrs. Bright teaches each of these classes, where students not only sing and dance, but also take challenging written tests. The groups show off their skills every year at the Christmas and Spring concerts. When asked about the vocal students, Mrs. Bright said, "These three students have shown leadership to the younger students in the choir. They have constantly been cooperative and helpful to me, and they have excellent voices. They deserve this recognition," said Mrs. Bright, about Matt Holloway, Jessica Curtis, and Brandon Beasley.

The world would be a duller place without the fine arts. Next time you hear beautiful music, see wonderful art, or hear foreign languages, stop and enjoy it. Understand that your life and everyone else's around you could be changed, if the fine arts were not part of it.

1 - Aaron Askew, Jessica Ray, Alicia Hadwin, Evan Kervan, Lindsay Phelan, Tanya Green, Ian Horvitz, and David Wykoff smile for a brief moment before they begin the race.

2 - Which is the toughest super hero - Mr. Kariblan as Superman or Mr. Finklin as Batman?

3 - Watch out, Mr. Alfano and Mrs. Hestrom, you are standing next to GCHS's very own Spider-woman, Mrs. Finklin!

4 - The freshmen class gets accustomed to the GCHS atmosphere.

5 - Cheer leaders Emily Taylor, Amanda Hall, and Stefany Westwood help start the spirit cheer.

6 - Sandra Keenagowan orders his teammates Kaslo Barkham, Dorian Durbin, Tanner Ritchie, and Eric

Lapardine to heaven for the first time.

7 - Joey Laford, Megan Gawlick, Jeff Lanning, Brian Buchanan, Lyndal Eberling, Pike Plonkewagen, Ashley Smith, and Emily Reutemacher get ready for the competition to begin.

8 - Hoping to catch up with the other teams, seniors try to pick up the pace in the water balloon race and to catch up with the others.

9 - The senior class knows what it took to win the spirit stick.

10 - The sophomore attempt to out shoot the seniors.

Mrs. Amy Alsop was chosen as this year's female spotlight teacher. Mrs. Alsop is the English Department Head and sponsor of the Scholar Bowl team, the JETS team, and the Yearbook Staff. Mrs. Alsop is a 1989 graduate of Granite City High School. After high school, Mrs. Alsop attended the University of Missouri-Columbia. Originally planning to earn a degree in journalism, Mrs. Alsop decided to change her major to English and teach high school students because, "My mother was a teacher, and it didn't seem to make her too crazy." Her first year teaching at GCHS, Mrs. Alsop taught journalism, where one of her students happened to be Mr. Laycock.

Some of Mrs. Alsop's students said of her: "She is an excellent teacher and explains things very well"; "Literature classes are usually my least favorite, but I enjoy every day of Mrs. Alsop's class"; and "Mrs. Alsop is one of the most intelligent teachers I've ever had."

The seniors of GCHS would like Mrs. Alsop to know how much she is appreciated. Mrs. Alsop is enthusiastic about her job and is always willing to help her students. Thank you, Mrs. Alsop!

SPOTLIGHT

Mr. Bill Laycock was chosen by the seniors as this year's male spotlight teacher. Mr. Laycock teaches Machine Tools in the Industrial Education Department. Before coming to teach at Granite City High School, Mr. Laycock worked as a machinist instructor at a company in St. Louis. He graduated from GCHS in 1996 and is now working toward a teaching degree at Southwestern Illinois College.

When asked how he liked teaching, he said "I love it. It's great working with people and helping them learn. I love explaining things to people. The students are definitely the best part."

Some of Mr. Laycock's students said of him: "He's the most down to earth, funniest teacher I've ever had"; "He really befriends his students"; and "Mr. Laycock taught me how to be successful in my career."

The senior class would like to thank Mr. Laycock for his dedication and hard work. He is definitely a teacher who is always there for his students. Thank you, Mr. Laycock!
